G.O.P. LEADERS
FIGHT AGAINST
NEW TAX BILL

Seed of New York Says Measure Would Be Unreliable as Revenue and Bar Jobs.
SEES BUSINESS SUFFER
Claims Such Law Would Discourage Expansion of Manufacturing Enterprises.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 24—A Reservation on the $803,000,000
tax bill was "dramatic, coercive and sudden." A second, opened a second round of debate on the complex
new revenue plan.

Rep. Reed, Republican of New York, added in his discussion of the bill that it would be unreliable as a revenue production, would discourage business expansion and make the maintenance of employment more difficult.

House Debate Continues

House debate went forward as more members of the senate financial committee conferred with treasury experts, talked of other ways of getting the revenues requested by President Roosevelt.

Reed began with a criticism of Secretary Wallace for a remark that the supreme court, in holding up unbounding AAA processing laws, should be returned, had permitted the greatest legal steal in history.

Wallace, he contended, held the court in contempt.

Rep. Bierman, Democrat of Iowa, asked whether it was "proper for a member to accuse a cabinet member of holding the supreme court
in contempt."

Not Proper Question

Rep. Warner, Democrat of North Carolina, presiding, said it was not a proper inquiry to put to the court.

Continuing, Reed termed the tax bill a "futuristic, experimental program."

Whether senate committee discussions would develop into a concrete move to write major changes into the bill, which makes averaging allocations in the corporate tax structure, was not yet apparent.

Senate committee members had not yet decided whether they would go along with the plan, although there had been some critical comments on the proposal from Democrats as well as Republicans.

Senators recalled, however, that a similar hostility such as increased income taxes on lower brackets were mentioned.

Have Modified Plan

One proposal being discussed by senate committee members was to modify the President's plan for taxing corporations on the basis of their undistributed profits. This modified plan, details of which have not been disclosed, would be superimposed on the present corporate tax structure, which would be retained on the statute books.

Widow of Former President

in First Encounter.

(UPI, April 24, Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, April 24.—Travelers arriving by air from Guatemala reported today bloody conflict broke out in the Central American republic of Honduras,
with rebels moving on Tegucigalpa,
capital of President Tiburcio Carias government.

Sonora Anna Lagos, Do Lopez
Gutierrez, widow of one-time president of Honduras Gen. Rafael Lopez Gutierrez, who lives here, said she received information indicating that the insurgents were successful in their first engagement.

Her reports said rebel forces defeated loyal troops, commanded by Col. J. Ines Perez and Col.
Juan B. Chavez at Duyure, 10 miles from Teotocatlan and about 25 miles southeast of Tegucigalpa, and drove them across the border into Nicaragua.

The travelers, after coming here by airplane from Nicaragua, south to the neighboring Republic of Honduras with an assertion that President Carias had imposed a strict curfew on telegraph, telephone and postal communications.

Sonora Lagos said she understood the rebels were well supplied with arms and ammunition campaigning in the mountainous country of Honduras.

KIDNAPER SAYS

Denies He Had Accomplice in Futile Effort To Abduct
Allentown Child.

WOMAN QUIZZED, FREED

Boy "Saws" Tape on Rock To Release Self and Save His Father $20,000 Ransom.

By the Associated Press

ALLENTON, Pa., April 24—A man who police said confessed he kidnapped 10-year-old Henry T.
Koch insisted "I was alone in it."
In replying to all questions suggesting
he might have had an accomplice in a ransom plot that the young victim himself detected.

The prisoner, against whom was served a warrant charging Richard D. Taylor of Akron, O., about 43, with kidnapping, underwent careful questioning by investigators yesterday after his arrest on the outskirts of Allentown. A man who police said acknowledged an acquaintance with the man, was questioned and released.

Henry was able to add some realistic touches to a favorite game of "kidnap" today, his efforts to escape from bonds of tape yesterday having freed himself and saved his father, H. T. Koch Sr., from an attempt to collect $20,000 in ransom.

The boy was lured into an automobile yesterday and taken to a woods southwest of Allentown
where he was left bound with tape while the kidnaper returned to set a ransom note to the father.

The boy crawled to a sharp stone
on which he "sawed" with his legs until the stone cut the tape. He then telephoned his mother.

His father, who had just received the ransom note at his office, called police who accompanied the parents to the spot. The man identified by the boy was arrested near the place.

Police said they found four prepared ransom notes and a roll of tape in the night pockets. He was unarmed.

"I was a fool to do it," they quoted him as saying.

Others Further Ahead

Ahead of these troops of the main Italian army in the north were like advance contingents who Italian reports placed some 70 miles from Addis Ababa.

The Italian commander said the advance was progressing in good form on the southern front. Airplanes continued bombing Ethiopian defenders of the second largest city of Government.

A government spokesman in Addis Ababa denied Italian reports that no defense would be made of the capital. He said of Italian dispatches stating that a mission
would meet the Italian armies
before Addis Ababa with a white flag of surrender, that they were "intentionally false."

Plan Guerrilla Warfare

Even if the capital were taken by the Fanatics, the spokesman said
the war would go on with the Ethiopian starting large-scale guerrilla warfare against the invaders.

The government spokesman said that Emperor Haile Selassie again
was in control of all Ethiopian territories outside the Italian lines.

The spokesman denied reports of a mutiny in the north but admitted that a chaotic situation broke during the rapid advance of the Italian vanguard to Dejewa, saying that the emperor's armies
were forced into disorderly flight
by gas attacks.

The intentions of Nazi Germany
in regard to the Lorraine question and colonial expansion took the spotlight in the capitals of France and Great Britain, with the Parliament asking British authorities to demand of Adolf Hitler whether he intends to obtain foreign colonies.

Final selections were completed this morning after several weeks of balloting by the faculty members.
The list from which 40 were chosen was made up of the pupils in the highest 25 per cent of the senior class, academically.

Balloting by the faculty was on the basis of the society's cardinal points of leadership, scholarship, character and service, and the additional qualities of ingenuity of position,
integrity, responsibility, initiative,
schoolwide perseverance, social adaptability, high intellectual, cooperative spirit, originality, service to students and service to teachers.

The date for the formal induction service will be set in the near future.

MONTANA GUARDS
AGAINST INDIGENTS

By the Associated Press

MARION COUNTY, April 24—Rearming of the guards against the indigents was ordered yesterday by the county commissioners. The guards were to be armed with rifles and shotguns to protect the county jail from attack.

The county received $7,000 from the state last year. The county received $7,000 and each of the 15 townships were given $200 each, a total of $4,500. The distribution is the second of the year.

Preferred County Jail

Judge Martin asked Davis if he wished to question the witness and the defendant said he wanted to ask "his honor" first if he would have to go back into the city prison
if he would be placed in the county jail after the hearing. Told that he had to go to jail, he finally came out of the front door with raised hands and surrendered to Patrolman Lewis Cunningham. He laid some foot on the floor and was led into the jail.

Leaders of the party estimated that around 100,000 persons could watch the ceremony and hear the President's speech of acceptance in the University of Pennsylvania athletic field near the convention hall.

Answers to Questions by Davis

Davis decided to question Smith
and asked him how many windows
were broken in the Ford residence.
"How many did police break?"
the defendant, speaking with a pronounced Southern drawl, asked.

While new deal chief was traveling to tomorrow's meeting in Philadelphia to complete arrangements for the June convention,

He could go to the county jail if he wanted to cross examine DeWees.

Patrolman Harry Smith was on the stand next and corroborated
the police captain's testimony, adding that police had broken the lower part out of the same kitchen window the prowler had entered.

COMMISSION GETS PHONE CONTROVERSY

Marion Man Files Complaint with State Board; Says Service Denied Him.

M. E. Miller of 384 Forest street filed a complaint with the state utilities commission yesterday through his attorneys, Garhart & Garhart, against the Ohio Associated Telephone Co., for alleged failure to furnish him phone service in his home.

The attorneys charge that a telephone pole and anchor for a brace supporting the pole, known as a "dead man," were located for some time at the end of the porch at the Miller residence, and when Mr. Miller objected the company agreed to furnish him with free phone service as long as the pole remained. After leaving the pole and anchor near the porch approximately two years the company removed them and then sent Mr. Miller a bill for $117 for back telephone service, attorneys said. The company has refused to provide phone service at the home because Mr. Miller will not pay the back bill, according to his attorneys.

The utility corporation is expected to hold a hearing on the complaint within the near future. A law suit brought by Mr. Miller against the telephone company also is pending in common pleas court here. He seeks judgment for $2,000 for damages allegedly suffered by reason of loss of telephone service and inconvenience in his business connection.

HINTZE, DAVIS CASES GO TO GRAND JURY

Patrolman Smith replied that only one window was broken.

"The same one you say had the piece broken out?" Davis asked.

"The same," Smith answered.

"Are you sure of that?"

"Quite sure."

Davis then said he was in the house Saturday night but that he went there "to get a drink" with a man who told him he was a roomer.

"Didn't you hear me say I went there with a man who was a roomer there?" Davis quickly asked Smith.

"I heard you talking at random after we handcuffed you to the telephone pole but I don't recall all you said," Smith replied, smiling.

Patrolman Cunningham called to the stand next, testified he broke the kitchen window and that when Davis was upstairs in the Hard home he carried on a conversation with an imaginary accomplice in order to mislead the police. Cunningham told of Davis' surrender, quoting the defendant as yelling "Don't shoot! Don't shoot—I'm coming out," just before he walked out the front door with his hands raised.

Davis then asked Cunningham the same questions he had put to Smith about the broken window.

"I heard all that glass breaking down there," he said.

Cunningham replied that he hadn't "paid much attention" when Davis asked him if he heard him tell no less he went to the Hard residence with a roomer.

" Didn't you see that man come out of the house and walk up street before I came out with my hands up?" he suddenly asked. Cunningham shook his head in the negative.

The courtroom lobby was filled with spectators throughout the hearings.

declined to comment until its receipt.

The Illinois primary vote is advisory only, and not binding on the delegates. Barth's campaign managers have claimed 26 of the 40 district delegates. Knob has said all but one of the delegates were "Knox men." He said some of them might vote for Barth on the first ballot because of the popular vote in their districts.

Addressing the Kansas Society of New York last night, Henry Justin Allen, publisher of the Tiptoe State Journal, described Gov. Alf M. Landon as "the outstanding figure in the American politics scene today."

"Gov. Landon is not a showman; he is not a radio artist," said Allen, "but he is steady, sure, reliable and he is a natural to demobilize the monstrosities of the present administration."

Philadelphia and Joe Mondi, Curley associate in New York.

Garrison Smalley, Kansas City newspaper publisher and chairman of the Missouri State Athletic commission, was the other witness during the first day's hearings.

Smalley testified that Shikat had written to the commission about March 14 saying he had no manager, and was booking his own bouts, but that the champion appeared before a commission hearing March 15 and said he had signed with Al Hart of Columbus on March 6.

CULP FUNERAL HELD

The funeral of Mrs. Clara Culp, who died Monday afternoon at the home of her sister, Mrs. Charles Markert of 105 East Columbia street, was conducted yesterday at 2:30 p.m. at the Caldonia funeral home in Caldonia by Rev. W. R. Ellis, pastor of the Caldonia Christian church. Burial was made in the Clyde cemetery near Caldonia.

FAMOUS PHYSICIAN REACHES SURFACE

TWO RESCUED MEN HAD GIVEN UP HOPE

caused a loose stick of dynamite to explode.

Only when a siren sounded through the hole did they realize that communication had been established.

They rushed over, shouting and uppling the pipe, and the miners above knew for the first time that the three were alive.

After communication was established, Magill did not talk to his wife, although Dr. Robertson and Scadding spoke often.

Magill did not want his wife to know he was in serious condition, suffering from stomach ulcer, pleurisy and pneumonia.

For hours, Dr. Robertson held Magill in his arms, trying to keep him warm. Monday morning, less than 24 hours after the diamond drill broke through, Magill sat up suddenly, spoke incoherently and in two minutes he was dead.

Doctor Catches Cold.

Then the 62-year-old Dr. Robertson contracted a cold, and Scadding, 44-year-old dramekeeper, suffered from "bronch fever." They lost surprisingly little weight, however.

Magill died soon after the water began to mine, and until enclosure dug as far as a cribwork through which Dr. Robertson and Scadding could be seen Wednesday afternoon, a few days after he had been saved from drowning.

It seemed like years after Mrs. Robertson and others at the surface told them "It will be only a few hours now."

The sight of the miners' lamps restored their courage, however, and Dr. Robertson and Scadding set up and laughed as the rescuers approached.

Talk Back and Forth.

The two talked back and forth for a long time after their rescue, showing strength that astonished the anxious doctors and nurses.

"Pauline dear," Dr. Robertson explained as he met his wife, who had bravely watched the rescuers, "Eddie," was her only reply.

Today both men were carefully shielded from questioners until they were stronger.

"They're doing O. K.," was the word passed about by departing grizzled miners, volunteers in the dramatic fight to rescue the men following a cave-in at the Moose River gold mine Easter Sunday.

The body of Magill was taken in a hearse to Halifax and his widow was accompanied there by friends. He and Robertson a few months ago purchased the abandoned mine, once reputed to have yielded $400,000.

Although weak from his entombment, Dr. Robertson was not missing anything even with rescue at hand, miners disclosed.

drafted after President Roosevelt called for tax revision, would repeat all taxes after a year and substitute a graduated tax on adjusted net income based upon the percentage retained in surplus. By also applying normal income taxes to corporations dividends, the plan is estimated to yield $620,000,000 a year more than present corporate taxes. Other provisions in the bill would bring the yield to more than $800,000,000 a year. Its advocates say.

SCHOOL ORCHESTRAS AT COLUMBUS MEET

21 Units Compete as Part of Three-Sided Music Festival at O. S. U.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., April 24.—Orchestras from 21 high schools competed today in a state contest as a part of the three-day music festival for 5,000 student musicians at Ohio State university. Finals for 25 high school bands will be held Saturday. Events for vocal choirs were held yesterday.

Virtually all programs will be moved ahead one hour. The radio schedules in The Star next week will be listed according to the schedule service furnished by the radio stations. As more programs change time throughout the next week or two they will be rescheduled promptly.

As an example of the new time changes the Major Bowes amateur program, which has been heard at 8 o'clock Sunday night, will now come at 7 o'clock.

FIVE MEN INDICTED IN WENDEL KIDNAPING

District Attorney Indicates More Will Come Later; Parker Jr. Among Five.

By The Associated Press
BROOKLYN, N. Y., April 24.—The possibility of additional indictments was indicated today in the kidnaping of Paul H. Wendel whose repudiated confessions of the Lindbergh kidnaping caused a three-day delay in the execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

With five men named in the true bills yesterday, District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan said the additional indictments might be forthcoming against "persons not within the jurisdiction of Kings county (Brooklyn)." He refused to amplify the remark.

The indictments, charging kidnaping and second degree assault, were against Ellis H. Parker Jr., a New Jersey detective who had been prominent in certain phases of the Lindbergh case; Martin Schlesinger and Harry Bleedie, now in custody in Brooklyn; and Harry Welas and Murray Fleetwood who have not been located.

Assistant District Attorney Francis Madden and several detectives delivered a warrant for the arrest of the younger Parker to New Jersey state police last night. The New Jersey officers were not able immediately to locate him but it was believed likely he would appear voluntarily today.

Judge William H. Middleton of the fourth district court of appeals directed Warden James C. Woodward to delay the electrocution because he was not sure whether a previous 30-day stay meant exactly 30 days or the calendar month of 31.

Earlier Gov. Martin L. Davey granted Donald Eberle, a professional handi who insisted he never meant to shoot anybody, a 60-day stay in view of an indefinite stay granted Eberle's companion, John Player, three days ago.

The Ohio supreme court set May 15 for a hearing on Player's appeal. He and Eberle were convicted of the robbery-kidnaping of Albert Weesky, Cincinnati butcher boy, April 11, 1933.

The last Saturday night electrocution was that of Peter Tradeway of Cleveland, June 1, 1935.

WASHINGTON, April 24—This was a day of rest for Rep. Marion Zioncheck, the young man from the far northwest, and as the capital's police got a chance to catch their breath.

Early Gov. Martin L. Davey granted Donald Eberle, a professional handi who insisted he never meant to shoot anybody, a 60-day stay in view of an indefinite stay granted Eberle's companion, John Player, three days ago.

Zioncheck, the young man from the far northwest, and as the capital's police got a chance to catch their breath.

Whether he planned to take his big shiny roadster out for another spin he did not say. The roadster was the center of the troubles which rose to a turbulent climax yesterday when he was taken forcibly into traffic court on a charge of tearing through Connecticut avenue at 70 miles an hour. He had refused to appear declaring the judge was seeking "cheap publicity" and could "go to hell."

"I believe in the Constitution. I am a firm believer,"

But Judge Crase cut him short and imposed the penalties. They were: $25 for speeding, $20 for contempt and $25 in forfeited collateral.

For about an hour after that Zoncheck waited in the bull pen, until Rep. John J. Connor of Connecticut, the chief sponsor of the bill, arrived.

Parmelee Making Good With Cards

All Rights Reserved by The Associated Press

If Bill Terry, the New York Giants' manager, reads the sports pages, as he most likely does, he probably noted with no little interest that the first Cardinal victory of the current campaign was scored by none other than Tarzan (The Untamed) Parmelee when the former Giant hurler set down the Chicago Cubs, 3-2, after Dizzy Dean flopped dismally in the season opener.

Parmelee is likely to win lot of ball games for the Cards this season, but the fact that he scored over the National league champions in convincing fashion in his very first start in the Red Bird uniform makes it worthy of note. And all because it brings to mind a bit of conversation which followed the consummation of the deal which sent Parmelee to St. Louis in exchange for Burgess Whitehead. Other players figured in the deal, but that is not important to this yarn.

Word got back to Bill Terry that Frankie Frisch had commented that Burgess Whitehead would not finish the season in a Giants uniform, causing Terry to fire back with: "Is that so? Well, go back and tell Frankie that Parmelee won't finish a game for the Cards."

Terry was delighted with the fine showing Whitehead made in the opening game against Brooklyn when he made a couple of sensational stops and played a great game around second base. And just when Terry was feeling pretty well satisfied that he got the better of the bargain—along came Parmelee to make his former boss look mighty foolish as a prognosticator.

If Parmelee should happen to have a good season in St. Louis Terry will be criticized for letting him go. Especially if Whitehead should not come up to the mark at second.

That would hardly be fair to Terry. After all, Terry and the New York Giants had tried for half a dozen years to do something with Parmelee. He was wild when the Giants bought him from Toledo in 1929, and he was wild last season—evidence of that in the official records for 1935. Parmelee walked 87 batters to pass the National league pitchers and hit nine men—the latter honor he shared with Daffy Dean.

Parmelee pitched a couple of games for the Cards in 1929, winning one. He was farmed to Newark the next season but was recalled to pitch in eleven games and was charged with the loss of one. He lacked control and was sent to Columbus. That was in 1931. Before the season was over he was back in New York. In 1932 he won 14 games for

53 SCHOOLS ENTERED IN OHIO WESLEYAN RELAYS SATURDAY

Marion County To Be Represented by Prospect and Morral Teams.

By The Associated Press

DELaware, O., April 24—Ohio Wesleyan's fifth annual team relays, scheduled Saturday has an entry list of 53 schools today, said Director George Gauthier said. At least 700 boys would compete in the classic.

Twenty of the teams are in class A, and 33 in class B. Separate events are held for each division, with the exception of an "open" 100-yard dash.

The Sandusky Whittakers, Don

and Jim are expected to provide the big thrill of the competition with their pole vaulting. Last year the Whittakers helped Sandusky win the team title in class A. Don vaulting 11 feet nine inches, and Jim finishing three inches under that, last Saturday.

A pleasant surprise often awaits

the angler who tries "dabbed-out"

or "no-fish-third" water. We know a chap whose hobby, if you want to call it that, is taking fish from places with a reputation of being bitter.

Sandusky won the team title a year ago with 38 points, just one more than Toledo Scott was able to garner. The class B laurels went to Salem Oak Harbor with 22, the visitors nosing out Delta by half a

NEW SUPER ZEP PLAN OUTLINED

Litchfield Says Specifications Combine All Knowledge Learned in Recent Mishaps.

Copyright, 1936, by United Press.
AKRON, O., April 24—Plans for a super dirigible, larger than Germany's new Hindenburg and combining all the construction knowledge learned from the tragedies of the Akron and the Marion, are being drawn up by engineers of the Goodyear-Zeppelin Co., President Paul W. Litchfield told the United Press last night.

Should the government interest itself in lighter-than-air craft for commercial purposes, especially to join with Germany in trans-Atlantic air service, production could be started at the Zeppelin dock here with 24 hours, it was indicated.

How Faith In dirigible Litchfield, 61, with thinning, almost white hair, has great faith in the future of the rigid airship particularly as it applies to transoceanic commerce.

That's why he has his engineers busy on plans for the new super dirigible.

It would be the largest lighter-than-air craft ever built. 520 feet in length and 145 feet in diameter.

According to those specifications, it would be three times longer than the Hindenburg and 75 feet longer than the Akron, the ill-fated queen of the air which preceded the Marion. Could Be Militarized.

It would be built primarily for commercial purposes, but so constructed, Litchfield said, that it could quickly be rigged for military service as a flying air base.

Litchfield revealed that Goodyear is prepared to train its own crew, if necessary, for the commercial ship.

He said two of his experts were aboard the Hindenburg on the South American voyage and will be aboard when the big ship comes to Lakewood, N. J., in May, studying every detail of its operation.

Defense Leader Explains Belgian Role in Next War

Declares Nation Is Now Prepared To Repulse Any Attempt at Armed Invasion.

(This is the fourth and last in a series of articles on the present-day defense of Belgium.)

BY EDWARD HUNTER

CORRESPONDENT, THE STAR

BRUSSELS, April 21—Belgium

is now finally equipped to "stay in Belgium this time" in case her frontiers are again violated, according to Albert Devosse, minister for foreign defense.

He made this statement in an exclusive interview on the present situation of his country so far as defence is concerned.

His remark followed an extensive tour by this correspondent

along new fortifications barring

the entire eastern and northern frontiers. Supported by the French

Maginot line facing Belgium, and with the port of Zee Brugge above

course taking our neighbors into consideration."

Could Block Enemy

This view was supported by the location of Belgium's fortifications, which although useless from an offensive viewpoint, were in position to oppose the entry of an invading army from the east, even if it were to attempt to pass by way of Holland.

The minister for public defense, who corresponds to the minister for war in other countries, confirmed this correspondent's impression that Belgium expects no invasion of Germany, or attempted to push through Holland. That, however, could be the only explanation for the enormous subterranean fortresses constructed along side Holland, and the series of fortified waterways being linked together all along the Belgian side of the Dutch frontier. The Belgians certainly do not expect the Dutch to invade them.

Father of Defenses

Devosse often is referred to as the father of the present-day Belgian defenses. He is a medium-sized man, quick in his movements, a war bit dark. He is democratic and amiable, but fast and to the point. He is cautious in what he says, started life as a lawyer, and is a civilian and not a military man.

The interview took place in his home, a moderate private house with an American steel filing cabinet in the downstairs parlor, and two painted beer mugs on the mantelpiece. It is an off-the-shelf home, giving an impression of solidity, with a large fireplace with real logs, and a high ceiling.

Devosse pointed out that in the controversy over the semimilitarization of the German Rhineeland, Belgium adopted an independent policy from the outset. "We did not consider Germany's action as an immediate war measure," he declared, "and so we did not send troops to our frontier points. Instead we are seeking a permanent solution, and simultaneously we are reconsidering the problem of permanent defenses."

He pointed out that the Belgian occupation of frontier lines had been based on the assumption that the German army was miles away. "With an army across the frontier the problem of continued preparedness becomes acute."

Belgium, never having engaged in an aggressive war itself, has the misfortune of being situated on one of the main European avenues of war, and this, he said, was the sole problem confronting his ministry.

THEATERS WILL AID WILL ROGERS FUND

Memorial activities in Marion county, announced today.

As a final gesture to the memory of the cowboy philosopher, members of the theatrical profession propose to provide for maintenance and support of the million dollar sanitation at Saranac Lake, N. Y., which was donated recently to the Will Rogers Memorial commission by the National Vaudeville Artists organization.

The N. V. A. has maintained the institution for a number of years for sick and needy show people.

The week of May 22 theaters all over the country will give their audiences the opportunity of contributing small amounts to the memorial fund through a collection in the show houses. Mr. Warner said it is hoped Marion theaters will cooperate with the Rogers Memorial commission and with members of the theatrical profession in this tribute to the dead comedian.

Progress in the arrangements for observing "memorial week" in Marion will be reported within a few days, Mr. Warner said.

Senior Class Song Chosen from Entry List of Eight

The distinction of writing the song for the Harding High school class of 1942 was won this year by Ellsworth J. Stinebeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Stinebeler of 547 North Main street.

Words written by Stinebeler and set to the familiar music of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," were selected from the entries of seven other senior pupils.

The final selection lay with a faculty committee composed of L. G. Jones, music supervisor in the schools, Miss Edith Brown and Miss Lucile Foreman, and a student committee composed of Elizabeth Stoll, chairman, Josephine Craven, Mary Anne Young, Robert Mullett and Robert Fair.

Others who entered songs were Wilfred Staker, Ann Chappell, Miss Layman and Miss Greb expect to return home Tuesday.

BETHLEHEM M. E. AID SOCIETY MEETS

The sum of $11 was voted to the Berea Orphans' home at Berea, O., and $10 was voted for missionary purposes at a meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the Bethlehem M. E. church south of Marion yesterday afternoon with Mrs. J. L. Almendinger of south of Marion. Twenty members and guests were present. Mrs. Albert Goyer, president, presided for devotional and business sessions. Mrs. Henry Maag gave a talk on "The God-Planned Life," and Mrs. Gail Smith gave a reading. A meeting will be held May 21 with Mrs. Goyer.

The women of Marion county's WPA Sewing Center are the champion buttonhole makers of the Ninth Ohio district, the results of a contest which closed recently shows. Word of the award was received today by Mrs. Jennie Crane, supervisor of the center.

The contest was open to all contestants in the district throughout March, and for two weeks the 50 contestants at the Marion center practiced the art of making buttonholes during their daily study periods. The work was entered in the state contest, and the Marion women's work was entered with others from the district, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Violet Curtiss, district supervisor of Women's and Professional projects. Miss Madelon Hecht, of state headquarters at Columbus, judged the entries and presented the award, a five-pound box of hand-rolled chocolate bon bons, offered by Mrs. Curtiss as the prize.

The Sewing Center in Marion now gives regular employment to 147 women and is the largest in the district. The women of the advanced class at present are working on baby clothes and layettes. All the work has received the most favorable comment from officials supervising the work.

By adding sections a new necktie rack can be made to hold from six to 40 ties.

DETROIT TIGERS WIN FROM ST. LOUIS 10-0; ATHLETICS VICTORS

Yankees Chalk Up 10-6 Victory Over Senators, Cubs, Hose Out Pirates

By the Associated Press
A 10-0 win over the St. Louis Browns was the third consecutive victory for the Detroit Tigers today, and they were going to win their third consecutive game tomorrow, as a few hours earlier it was reported.

Silvers, the series, Detroit Tigers' champs, 10-6, and won a double decker in the 10th inning, 10-5. It's Brown's, not the Browns, who are here to stay, however, as the Browns have dropped to the 10th place in the Eastern Division, and the Yankees, Cardinals, Indians and the Athletics are all in there, too, by the Red Sox, the Indians having a victory, 8-7, over the Golden State.

Sioux City Homer

Pillsbury, Pedro Alvarado, however, has come out to beat the Browns, and to increase his lead, or that enabled them to do so.

There had been a day in the Dodger, reporting however, Harry Moore, right fielder, broke his leg while attempting to steal second in the record setting of a bitter battle which went 10 frames. A pinch single by Sidney Coates sent home the winning tally in the 10th triumph.

Cochrane led his champions to a 10-8 win over the Browns. He got two singles, Gehring and Greenberg got three hits each and Goode two.

The Reds won by 8-6 as Paul Dean went to the showers after allowing nine hits in seven innings. Paul Darringer, ace tamer of the Reds, was nicked for 17 batters.

Kelley Outlasts Ferrell

Harry Kelley, a rookie from Atlanta, gave the Philadelphia club tomorrow a ray of hope concerning the rebuilding plans of Connie Mack. He outlasted Wes Ferrell, who went only four innings and then went on to win his ball game 8-1, allowing but three hits.

It was Kelley's first major

PHILLIES TAX RACE TRACKS

By the Associated Press
FRANKFORT, Ky., April 24.—A bill imposing a daily license fee of $2,500 on the Churchill Downs race track needed only the signature of Gov. A. B. Chandler to become law today. The bill also calls for a 16-cent tax on each track admission.

The daily license at Latonia is fixed at $1,000 under the bill and $500 at Dade Park, Henderson, Ky.

The bill was introduced by Rep. Harry Kelley, a rookie from Atlanta, who gave the Philadelphia club tomorrow a ray of hope concerning the rebuilding plans of Connie Mack. He outlasted Wes Ferrell, who went only four innings and then went on to win his ball game 8-1, allowing but three hits.

It was Kelley's first major league victory, with Joe Louis Brown, pitcher of Detroit, scoring for the Yankee state claim June 1.
